YOUR CRIMINAL JUSTICE NETWORK

Welcome to the new TCR!

The Crime Report, the nation's leading online criminal justice resource since 2008, is a crossroads for research and news that goes beyond the daily headlines.

We are unique, and here's why: as a nonprofit collaboration of the Center on Media, Crime and Justice (CMCJ) at John Jay College of Criminal Justice and Criminal Justice Journalists, we deliver daily and weekly email newsletters covering developments in every field of criminal justice to all subscribers to our website; and convene journalists and professionals for training and discussions around the country.

With an archive of 41,000+ items, The Crime Report is used by researchers and the media as a justice library. Operated by journalists in New York, Washington DC and LA, it informs criminal justice policy thought-leaders and is read by judges, public defenders, senior police managers, corrections leaders, agency heads, students, scholars, journalists, and bloggers. Our readers are in the White House, the Department of Justice, universities, justice agencies and NGOs around the country. They include top US editors, columnists and journalists, including over 800 who have participated in our criminal justice reporting fellowships.

The site now offers advertising and sponsorship opportunities on The Crime Report online and across our full range of daily and weekly services.

- Recurring clickable ads attractively posted on our website and in our mobile service.
- Ads and/or sponsorship recognition in our daily and/or weekly (M-F) newsletter on current research developments and headlines sent to subscribers.
- 'Job Board' services to list current employment opportunities with your agency or organization.
- Notices of special events, conferences, grants, prizes across our multiple platforms.

Ask us more about our expanding services and possibilities for sponsoring events and conferences organized by the Center on Media, Crime and Justice and The Crime Report!

Sincerely,

Stephen Handelman
Editor-in-Chief, The Crime Report
Director, John Jay Center on Media, Crime and Justice
